About More Finances.

The objective of this project is to assist those seeking better personal financial management, utilizing an AI with features for budgeting, investment planning, and debt management.

Why Choose Us

Our Core Issue

Commonly in Brazil, people often resort to either their bank's consultancy or physical consultations, both of which come with certain drawbacks.

Bank consultations tend to be biased, aiming primarily for their own profit. Consequently, they present more conservative options, omitting potentially better alternatives.

Physical consultations are highly limited and can also be biased. They require time and the inconvenience of frequent physical visits.

Our Solutions

Creating a robust management platform tailored to individual interests. Offering news and education about the financial world. Incorporating current and future trends to guide potential changes in respective actions. Providing impartial information about stocks and current affairs, prioritizing the user's financial security.
